

I would look at lifting the ban on cell phones pretty much the same as I would look at lifting the ban on smoking on airplanes. It is a bad idea that will inevitably lead to incivility and outright hostility between passengers. It is something we do not need.